

The UCLA Journal of International Law and Foreign Affairs

Presents

JUSTICE AND SOVEREIGNTY:

IMPLICATIONS OF THE INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL COURT

Friday, March 7, 2003

9:00 am ~ 3:30 pm

Room 1347,

UCLA School of Law

Join us for a symposium on the legal and foreign affairs implications of the establishment of the International Criminal Court.

Keynote lecture on the process and function of the ICC by:

Terree Bowers

Chief Deputy City Attorney; Former prosecutor for the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda.

Discussing America's absence:

Ambassador Pierre-Richard Prosper, Current Ambassador-at-large for War Crimes Issues

Ambassador David Scheffe, Former Ambassador-at-large for War Crimes Issues

Discussing the controversial concept of universal jurisdiction:

Professor Stephen Krasner

Graham H. Stuart, Professor of International Relations, Stanford University

Professor Ruth Wedgwood, U.S. Representative to the United Nations Human Rights Committee;

Professor, Yale Law School; Edward Burling Professor of International Law and Diplomacy, Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies

Registration: Non-students: $15; Students: Free. Parking: $7

UCLA School of Law is a State Bar of California approved MCLE provider.

Please inquire about MCLE Credit.

For information call: (310) 206-2643

Please register at: JILFA@orgs.law.ucla.edu

Funded by:

Campus Programs Committee

of the Programs Activities Board

UCLA Graduate Students Association

With support from:

The Los Angeles County Bar Association

More information on reverse.

*Followed by a separate event presented by the UCLA
School of Law International Law Society:*

In the Aftermath of a Dictator:

Pinochet and Beyond

A rare panel discussion with the barristers who argued the extradition case in the House of Lords, moderated by the Honorable Judge Alex Kozinski

Reception 5-6 p.m., Kerckoff Hall Grand Salon.

Panel 6-8 p.m., 100 Moore Hall

For information or registration for this separate event
please email kheiltash@2003.law.ucla.edu